

A free tool for the small businesses you help win government work

Finding the right bids is one of the hardest parts of government contracting. Dallas-Fort Worth agencies post them on different portals, so small businesses miss work they could win. ONOR puts them in one place and emails each business the bids in its trade.

What your clients and members get

- One searchable list of open bids from the City of Dallas, City of Fort Worth, Dallas County, Tarrant County, Denton County, and the cities of Plano, Irving, Garland and Denton, plus federal opportunities from SAM.gov.
- Updated every 6 hours from the agencies' official procurement portals, with a link to the original listing.
- A free weekly email with the open bids in their industry and area. Email address only, no card, one-click unsubscribe.
- Optional daily alerts with deadline reminders: $29/month founding price, first 30 days free, cancel anytime. Never required.

How partnering works

1. Share your link in a newsletter, workshop handout, resource page or client email. Your link looks like `onorbids.com/?ref=your-organization`, and we'll set it up for you.
2. Your clients sign up for free. There is no cost and no obligation for your organization.
3. We send you a short monthly note with how many businesses joined through your link, so you can report the help you provide.

Ask us for a branded flyer, a QR code for events, or a short demo for your counselors or members.

Our commitments

- We never sell or share your clients' information.
- Every email names why it was sent, includes our business address, and honors unsubscribes permanently.
- Listings always link to the official agency source. Businesses should confirm details there before bidding.
